

LHDA Celebrates Groundbreaking Start of Lesotho Lowlands Water Project Phase II

The Lesotho Highlands Development Authority (LHDA) joined a special groundbreaking event at the Ts'ehlanyane site to launch the Lesotho Lowlands Water Development Project Phase II (LLWDP II). This project is a key part of LHDA's new 10-Year Strategy, aimed at improving lives through access to water and electricity.

The Honourable Minister of Natural Resources led the ceremony, joined by representatives from the World Bank, the European Union, the Principal Chief of Leribe, and local community leaders. The event highlighted the importance of teamwork and shared goals in driving national progress.

Thanks to the partnership with LLWDP II and the ongoing support from the Government of Lesotho, we are taking bold steps toward our first key goal: ensuring all Basotho have fair access to water and electricity. This means communities will directly benefit from the water resources that support both Lesotho and the wider region.

Together, we're turning plans into action—and creating real change for our people.
