

CELEBRATING EXCELLENCE: LHDA COMES ALIVE AT THE 2026 LIKHALALA TSA MORERO AWARDS

There are moments in an organisation when you pause and recognise not just what has been done—but who has made it possible. The 2026 Likhala tsa Morero Awards, held on Friday, 27 March at Victory Hall, was one such moment for the LHDA.

Colleagues from across the organisation gathered in a celebration that went beyond awards. It was a reflection of the spirit, commitment, and shared purpose that continue to define LHDA as it approaches 40 years of impact.

The evening brought together excellence in its many forms—quiet consistency, bold leadership, innovation, and teamwork. Each award presented told a deeper story: of long hours, difficult decisions, and a commitment to delivering on the LHDA mandate with integrity and pride.

Management extended its sincere appreciation to all employees whose presence and participation made the event a success. The energy in the room was unmistakable—a reminder that LHDA is not just an institution, but a collective of people driving a shared mission.

Congratulations were extended to all award winners whose outstanding contributions continue to shape the organisation's journey. Equally important was the recognition of all nominees, whose work does not always make headlines but remains central to LHDA's continued success. In many ways, the evening affirmed that excellence at LHDA is not an exception—it is a standard.

A particularly meaningful highlight of the evening was the presence of LHDA retirees. Their attendance served as a powerful reminder that the organisation we see today stands on the foundation of years of dedication, sacrifice, and vision. Their legacy continues to live through the work being carried forward by current teams.

As LHDA marks this milestone period, the Likhala tsa Morero Awards reaffirm a simple but important truth: infrastructure may define what we build, but people define who we are.
